Suits for $4-$5, Shoes for 10-50°, But Rummage Sale Nets Thousands for Hospital

"A man can buy a suit for $4, although we may have to put the price up to $5 this year."

"Remember the year those old men sat on the floor around a box of old socks, fighting over them?"

"We get the WORST stuff donated to us --- I sometimes say a lot of it is "garbage", but we turned over $6,500 to the hospital last spring."

It's Princeton's semi-annual twoday madness, the hospital rummage sale. Opens at 9:30 a.m. next Tuesday at the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club on Terhune, but you'd better join the mob and get there around 8 if you want the best pickin's

This year, the rummage sale has a particularly serious meaning because of inflation. It's true that a man can buy a full suit for $4 or $5. Outer jackets for boys and men are about the same price.

The highest price-tag on a woman's garment will probably be $10 with a low of $2. The average price of a pair of shoes is 50 cents but some are even a dime.

What kind of shoe sells for ten cents! Well, pointed-toe shoes for women ("I'd rather be caught dead than wear them "), or shoes that are badly worn ("cheaper to get 'em fixed than buy a new pair ")

Dre-hard men who have never bowed to the wide tie may find narrow ties here, probably for 5 cents. They used to be a penny, and maybe a few will be, this year. Men who don't like long-pointed shirt collars can probably find short-tab shirts here, too, maybe a little frayed at the collar, but for the price. ?

In the driveway of the Sportsmen's Club, you'll find furniture, at least, what furniture is left in town after all the garage sales

"This rash of garage sales has really hurt our furniture donations, but we still get plenty"

Furniture is one of the things customers fight over. "I saw it first!" is a common rummage-sale wail, and it's a lot easier to stake a claim on a dress by clutching it, than to grab an oak dining table.

Yes, there are fights. One member of the rummage-sale committee is assigned as arbiter, not an enviable job

But buyers are calmer now, committee members say. "They don't shove us out of the way any more." Probably because everything is sold on both days, in contrast to early years when clothing would be sold one day, shoes the next, and so on, which made for a certain frantic grabbiness if you didn't get it today, there was no chance for tomorrow

Buyers are more serious, too, because of inflation. Many elderly, retired people shop the rummage-sales, arriving with empty cartons and filling them up like shopping bags.

"Our prices are a bit higher than the church rummage-sales," one committee member concedes, "but the choice is so much greater."

Rummage sales used to be held in the firehouses, first, in the Chambers Street house, then in the one on Harrison. But firehouses weren't big enough---and, indeed, the Sportsmen's Club gets pretty crowded---and besides, tiremen occasionally had to fight fires.

PHS PLANS PRESENTED Again, By Board. "I'm a newcomer and I don't think you're putting across your enthusiasm for the renovation of the high school," said a member of the audience at the school board meeting Tuesday, "Is this building educationally obsolescent?"

educationally obsolescent? "What do you tell people who say all PHS needs is a coat of paint?" asked another.

School board members, having presented their revised PHS plans for the October 15 referendum, thereupon made their sales pitch once again, aided by some in the audience.

"Yes, it is educationally obsolescent," replied PHS Principal George Petrillo, "the original building dates from 1927. We have new courses, like advanced physics, and advanced biology. Our students do independent work and we need resource centers and a new library."
"The library is only one-third the size the state requires, and the gyms have only three stations for teaching instead of the five required by the state," said architect J. Robert Hillier.

"If we renovate, the school will all be under one roof, "explained board member Joan Doig, "Now, we have activities in the out-buildings and in votes $20,000 a year to been discovered by Township officials. It allows a much easier merger of Borough and Township boards of health than the old regulations, and as a result, Township Com-mittee decided not to in-troduce on Monday night the ordinance providing for health board merger under the old law.

Under this Inter-local Services Act, Borough and
Township could form a joint health board similar to the present Joint Recreation Board, and a single health department like the Recreation department.

The two governing bodies could delegate to the new, merged board the ordinancemaking powers which New Jersey allows boards of health to have. Also, if they wanted to, the governing bodies could exercise more control over budgets and personnel policies of the new board than is now possible.

There are several advantages over the con-solidated-health-district law which Borough and Township thought they had to follow. Under this old law, enabling ordinances must be passed by December 31; a full year must then elapse before the new organization can operate; firm budgets must be adopted by December 31 each year— Thursday night in Borough well ahead of the main budget Hall in two cases involving and before newly-elected additions governing bodies have taken In. one.

The ISA has no deadline or visions at all. Financing of the new department could be under any formula Borough and Township agree upon. Budgeting would follow Budgeting would normal procedures.

BUXTON'S FINED $700 For Violating Labor Laws.

Buxton's Country Shops, Inc., 84 Nassau Street, was fined $525 and $175 court costs last week in Borough Court for 21 violations of the state's labor

The complainant, Ted Eastern of the Division of Labor and Industry, had charged Buxton's with allowing minors to work after 10 pm. and more than 40 hours a week, in violation of the state labor code.

Peter Fiumenero, 37, 25 William Street, was fined $60 by Judge William Bonting of West Windsor (sutting in for Borough Judge Philip Carchman) after he pleaded not guilty to assaulting the complainant, William Rog-weller of 14 Chestnut Street. Mr Rodweller was found not guilty of a counter charge of assault by Mr. Fiomenero

The two were parted by police a week ago following a light at Ivy Inn on Nassau Street. Police said at the time that Mr. Rodweller required eight sotures to close a laceration over his left eye.

Kevin Marshall, 20, 68 Clay Street, charged with attempting to commit and conceal a crime and aiding and abetting, waived a probable hearing in Borough court and was referred to the Mercer County Prosecutor's office Marshall's charges stemmed from a break-in and larceny at Spelman Hall on the University Campus. He allegedly went to the owners of a stolen stereo system and offered to get it back for $175. He was subsequently arrested by Borough detectives in the University Store lot with the $175 in his possession. The payoff had been arranged through the police depart-

As for longevity pay, police will still receive $250 after 10 years of service, $500 after 15, $750 after 20 and $1,000 after 25. Police had wanted to have this changed to $150 after eight years with increases every two years thereafter, reaching $1,100 after 25. It would have eost $1,800 for the entire period, Ptl Potts stated.

Committee, in turn, wanted longevity based on years in grade, not years in service. In addition, it wanted to increase from four to five years the time hefore a patrolmen would reach his maximum base salary. Further, Com-mittee wanted longevity in-creases of five levels based on a percentage of an officer's salary rather than periodic in-

Police argued that Committee's proposal financially hurt those with less than five years of service and those with more than 15. In essence, police accused Township Committee of robbing Peter to pay

Dear Mrs. Allen and Mr. St. John:

No Harris Poll is necessary to evaluate your ample talents and there's no need to hire SIy and the Family Stones to launch your campaign. Even without benefit of the telly, you'll still show top rein with, I doubt, no trouble.

Those who own dens, swig gin or take saunas will soon know you re the cream on their coffee. Ha! Milton, these two will be a rare hit in the political theatre - greater than PJ&B or the launching of the Lem.

There is one problem, though. Will Mia vote on November 5? (not Pat, for certain..). Those who are slow in getting to the polls will never sprain d'leg, but drivers, i.e., (those who drive), may end up on the police tablet if they speed. The answer, Candidates, is for your voters to be as eager as Romeo when he raced on a morn to Juliet's side, but as thoughtful as was Adam when his near rib went to Eve.

So get going, Allen and St. John! Show us how you are, indeed, tres new on the Borough scene. Don't sit back and relax but lay nets for your opponents. We have been led on before, but now need your good faith and service. Don't you dare lose!

This I print once - never again!

GENERAL MEETING SET By Interfaith Council. The Princeton Interfaith Council will hold a general meeting at 8 p.m. on Thursday, October 3, at the Princeton Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street. The Interfaith Council consists of representatives from 15 member congregations who serve on four committees on Worship, Community Con-cerns, Education, and Youth.

At a meeting of the executive committee on Monday, the Rev. Ronald Dyson, the President of P.I.C., noting that only three congregations had sent in their appointments to the four committees, urged all committees. member churches to appoint their representatives as soon as possible. Also at that meeting, the Committee supported the Walk for the Hungry sponsored by CROP, the Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service. On October 6, some 400 Princeton residents are expected to walk 10 miles to raise funds for disaster relief and self-help programs overseas and in the U.S.

The committee has selected Robert R. Richard of Trinity Episcopal Church as corresponding secretary after accepting the resignation of Miss Betty Braxton Preston. It also accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Patricia Roberts as chairman of the Community Concerns Committee.

15 member congregations of P.I.C. are: Christ Congregation, the Jewish Center, Princeton United Methodist, Mt. Pisgah African Methodist Episcopal, Nassau Presbyterian, Prinrestory terian, Frinceton Monthly Meeting of the Society of Friends, St. Paul's Roman Catholic Trinity Episcopal, Witherspoon, Street Presbyterian, All Saint's Episcopal, First Saint's Episcopal, First Baptist, Morning Star Church God in Christ, Princeton ptist, the Unitarian Baptist, the Unitarian Church and the University Chapel

Forty Six Acre Horse Farm Near Griggstown

Some say it used to be a stagecoach depot on the way to Princeton. But that was long ago. Now, it's a fantastic horse farm with plenty of income from its five apartments to help cover a great investment in a prime piece of land. The main house has substantially new, recently refurbished quarters for the proud new owner, and several apartments for guests or for income. The gigantic barn a short distance away has many box stalls, storage areas for hay, and a handsome paddock and riding ring. The exceptional land has good frontage and is significantly cleared yet wooded enough for a potential development of exceptional homes in a fine historic area. Fronting on open space, and in a historic area where George Washington used to roam, it is now available for $265,000.

On The Way To Honeybrook Lake

Conial countryside charm is what this rural estate-like property near Hoewell Valley Country Club is all about Beamed ceilings are the in the from the graceful living room with corner fireplace and gorgeous boundow through the crizy den with hearth, to the extensive dinner party-like dining room, and finally to the rustic completely modernized country kitchen. You should see the beautiful hand-made cabinets in the kitchen. Upstairs, are four or five comfortable bedrooms one of which has a working fireplace. The outbuildings include a cabana for the inground sylvan pool, a separate heated office with adjoining woodshed, a two story barn, a workshop and a quaint little spring house where Honey Lake gets started.

Princeton Borough Investment Opportunity

Within walking distance of Firestone Library is one of the finest and largest duplexes that we've ever seen, with at least four bedrooms on each side. Downstairs, there is a living room, dining room and kitchen plus a host of other possibilities in each apartment. It's situated on a quiet and charming street where children walk to everything and you get a break to partake of everything Princeton has to offer also. Why not move into one side and make payments as if you hardly had any mortgage at all? Call us for the particulars on financing, and a sound analysis of this investment opportunity.

$75,500

Hollylane Farm

If you've dreamed of owning your own country mini-estate in Princeton, you'll fall in love when you see this charming brick and frame colonial home at the end of a winding lane in a beautifully wooded area of Princeton

You it love entertaining in the rustic library with hand crafted cabinets, beamed ceiling, and a spacious early American hearth. Or, how about a Princeton dinner party alfresca on the wisteria-covered patio that overlooks an exquisite formal garden, after which you can retire for a cordial next to the warm fireplace in the formal living room.

Upstairs, there are four comfortable bedrooms and two full baths. And, yes, the guest room does have its own back stailway and a rustic fireplace to boot.

The horse paddock and mini-barn add still another dimension to this "storybook" setting, which can be yours if you call us soon

There are two separate contiguous building lots which are also available at a reasonable price. Call us for the details $129,500

Near Bedens Brook Country Club

Just a few minutes from downtown Princeton, yet hidden away in a private country setting our newest listing is a fantastic California Ranch with a creatively designed floor plan. At one end of this lovely home is a heated indoor swimming pool with flagstone patio and sauna, while at the other is a delightful master suite that can be cordoned off for either a long time guest, or an inlaw arrangement. Both the huge flagstone library/study and the family room have their own fireplaces while the kilchen and living room have a view of the pool. There are four or five bedrooms in all and four full baths. When winter comes this year, you can love it or leave it without ever leaving your home. Why settle for less?

Williamsburg Colonial on The Princeton Side

At home in the woods, yet with a rieighborhood full of children nearby, and rustic farms and rolling green countryside all around you is how you will feel about the setting of this carefully built. Williamsburg style Colonial in the woods of Montgomery. A formal central hall directs traffic conveniently throughout the workable plan inside. Both the living room to the right and dining room to the left are exquisitely detailed with crown mouldings and chair rails, while the relaxing family room is linished in rustic barn siding with real beams above and with a heart-warming old-brick fireplace as the focal point. A beautiful staircase leads up to four comfortable bedrooms and two full baths. Ready for you to put up the picket fence and the gate.

News Of The THEATRES

FROM TAIWAN'S STAGE To McCarter."A dizzying mix of dance, music, mime, mix of dance, music, mime, processionals, tapestries tableauz and hilarious acrobatics". That's Time Magnzine, describing the National Chinese Opera Thentre from Taipei, Taiwan.

Its musicians and performers, 80 of them, are due at McCarter for a single per formance on Monday night, October 14, at 8.

Chinese opera, banned on granfand China since 1966, flourishes on Taiwan, where there are five Peking-opera schools. Culturally, the genre dates to the eighth century reign of the Emperor Hsuan Tsung, although it did not attain full refinement until the 18th century. The traditional hero of Chinese opera is the Monkey King, a cleric's disciple who drinks and fights too much but comes out all right in the end as a Buddhist.

REVIVALS
On Film. "King of Hearts" and "Harold and Maude," a pair of black coincides from years just past, will be shown on a double bill at McCarter this Friday and Saturday

Screenings for "King of Hearts" will be Friday at 7 and Saturday at 8:45. "Harold and Maude" will be shown on Friday at 9 and Saturday at both 7 and 10:30. "King of Hearts" provides English provides English subtitles

"Harold and Maude" is the one about the 80 year-old woman (Ruth Gordon) and the teen age boy (Bud Cort). He is obsessed with death, drives his own hearse and attends funerals for fun. But he meets Maude who teaches him how to savor life (For review of "King of Hearts," see elsewhere in "Thea(res"). Continues on next page.

MONTGOMERY

Uptown Saturday Night is a sprightly black comedy centering around the search for a winning lottery ticket by Sidney Poitier and Bill Cosby who find themselves in an underworld wonderland of comic types. Harry Belafonte plays one of two rival gangleaders in a broad takeoff of Marlon Brando in "The Godfather" Godfather

Poilier, who also directs the film, plays a down-to-earth but innocently rakish factory worker, his slightly more cosmopolitan huddy, Cosby, is a bearded and twinkling-eyed slightly more cab driver. They sneak out one right for a fling at a posh black gambling joint which is raided by a gong of uniden-tified robbers. Poitter doesn't realize until the next morning that his stolen wallet contains a $50,000 winning lottery ticket

In their crusade to retrieve it, they seek help from a bevy of zany characters, ranging from a paranoid con-man posing as a private eye to a pompous and slimy politician. There's a predictably happy ending, although the two heroes are considerably worse for wear. Strictly for fun

Chinatown. A stylish, classy, ingeniously-plotted murder mystery set in Los Angeles of the '30s with Jack Nicholson as a private detective and Faye Dunaway as his mysterious employer, Chinatown is one of the best pictures of the year Nicholson is in top form, which means another outstanding performance, and Miss Dunaway is a fascinating mystery woman. As directed by Roman Polanski, who plays a brief role as a sadistic hood in the film,  $oldsymbol{\mathbb{Q}}$  Chinatown is steeped in the period and the style of the '30s 🜓 lu many ways it resembles a realistic remake of The Maltese Falcon classic, but in its ultimate cynical ending the 1970s. The plot has many twists and those who leave for popcorn do so at their own risk. What begins as an apparent case of marital infidelity for Nicholson, who has spent some lean years on the Los Angeles police department's Chinatown beat where "Nothing's what it really seems to be," soon branches out to several murders, incest and a plot to divert a proposed day project. divert a proposed dam project from drought-ridden L.A. to a mass of outlying orange groves that would make the connivers millionaires.

Polanski has paced the film slowly but effectively, building to an involving climax that ties all the loose ends together. The heroes miss their triumph and the catharsis that should have rounded out the film is stifled The meticulous detail of the 1930s is highly polished and down right beautiful. And the acting, especially Nicholson's and that of John Huston as the prime villian of the piece, is

Anyone who thrilled to seeing Bogie as Sam Spade in Maltese Falcon will enjoy Chinatown as much-and Miss Dunaway is a lot more appealing and glamorous than Mary Astor.

As a general rule, as you know, doctors recom-mend that tecnagers have their eyes tested at least every two or three years. Some young people need to have their vision tests even more often that thatthis is especially true if you wear glasses. If from a distance of twenty feet you can read letters one-fourth inch high on a chart such as the Snellen chart, your vision in the eye being tested will be recorded as 20-20. If you have vision in one eye, but not the other, you should have a complete eye examination.

For the first time Russian lines are being imported into this country , and the in-fluence is reflected in several new styles Tudor Square has used a fascinating fabric with a black leaf design on a pale bronze background to make an evening blouse with a Russian stand up collar and a narrow belt with a mother ofpenri buckle. The full sleeved blouse can be teamed with a fully fined long skirt or pants, priced individually from $36 to

The sweater look is important for daytime and evening dresses too. For day Jon Michelle has designed an orange and brown tweed sleeveless wool dress with a ribbed waist and gathered skirt. There is a v-neck cardigan sweater to match and both are trummed with a dark brown double knit banding,

For evening we liked the long outmeal kint dress with a matching cabled cardigan sweater Ste Michelle has trimined both with burgundy banding, a handsome contrast to the ontment, $89

For evening there is also a long peasant dress in a sheer multi-striped fabric, silver or pink evening pajams with pleated sleeves, and a sheer black crepe dress with a midcalf beggar hem. The black crepe, which has an empire waist and a sash in the back, has been screen printed with muted blue, yellow and manye circles, $60

Many Benefits Seen from Consolidation But Final Decision Hinges on Tax Reform Programs Awaiting Legislative Action:

articles prepared by the Joint Consolidation Committee on the impact of possible merger of the town's two municipalities. A bublic meeting on the question will be held Wednesday Ostober 2 at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.)

Over the years, a number of committees have studied the advantages and disadvantages of combining Princeton Borough and the surrounding Princeton Township into one municipality. Partly as a result of these efforts, an increasing number of Borough and Township functions have been combined into joint operations operations The final step combining two governments into onehas been studied over the past ten months by a joint com-mittee appointed by two governing bodies, the Borough Council and the Township Committee

Previous articles in this series have discussed the meaning of consolidation and the effect it might have on a number of municipal func-tions. In this concluding ar-ticle, we examine the effects on engineering, public works, housing and the tax system

Engineering, A consolidated municipality would need only one municipal engineer. Also, the total manhours now spent attending meetings of the governing bodies could be reduced somewhat

However, the quantity of day-to-day engineering work would not change, nor would the number of personnel in the Engineering Department Oo the other hand, combining the two engineering departments would permit some additional specialization, and could increase operating efficiencies

Public Warks. The volume of public works would be unchanged under conunchanged under con-solidation However, better scheduling under common control could produce more effective use of public works equipment

Some benefits of consolidation are already being achieved by joint purchasing, leasing and equipment use arrangements between the Borough and Township

Students and Staff at Princeton High Suggest Many Reasons for Sorely-Needed Renovation

What do students and teachers think about the need to renovate Princeton High's building?

Last week, the school board described the cutbacks it has made since defeat of the first referendum in June. This week, three students, four staff members and principal George Petrillo held a press conference to air their own more individualized attention. Curriculums are more flexible. The use of various media is taken for granted.

Critical comments PHS staff and students have heard: if you have good teachers, the building is unimportant. Too much space has been assigned to physied. The plans cost too.

Vote on the Facts. "I'd liketo get eyehall-to-eyehall with Mr some critics of renovation. many of whom don't have kids in the school system," observed Alfred Seitz, assistant principal "I'd like to have them vote on the hasis of knowledge, rather than solely on the budget

Mr Petrillo and Mr Seitz said they had extended personal invitations to people who oppose the renovation plans, suggesting they visit PHS to see for themselves. Not many have accepted, Mr. Petrillo

Besides Mr Petrillo and Mr. Seitz, staff members who participated were Estelle Browne, head of the creative arts department; Carmen President of the modern Prezioso, of the modern language faculty and Richard Saldon, head of the guidance department

Students were John Chow, resident of Student Council; Shawn Craig, of the prin-cipal's student advisory committee, and Ward Sloane

"When you show a film to English classes, you must show it ten times because there is no place where you can show it to everybody all at once. This means wear and tear on the projector, and it micans the projector isn't available to anyone else "Mr · "Sure, the school is great mdsvidualized attention, but there isn't any place to get it. The English office is really to small for two people. In the French Interest Center, well, people are always going in and I had freshman biology in Room 64 (one of the outbuildings) and 25 kids were all cramped in there together Ward Sloane.

"When winter comes, we'll have to bus kids to Valley Road for some phys. ed. This costs $10,000 every year." Mr.

Petrillo.

• "Teachers from other districts come here to visit, and they say 'You really mean you WORK here? They're that astonished developed such marvelous programs in such a building. Ms Browne

• "We do have really rich programs here, but the library isn't big enough. It's crowded every period and you have to find someplace else to work. John Chow

"Guidance is in two areas and on two different levels of the building. This makes it hard to move records back and forth Guidance is remote from where the students really ARE, it's hard for students to reach us. We've got a wealth of guidance information and material, but no place for it, and no place for kids to use it. If parents come and have to wait, we have three chairs and a Xerox machine in an aisle—that's our waiting room." Mr Saldon

• "For basketball practice, it there is a game, the other teams can't practice until about 5:15, so we finish up around 6-6:30. The girls' gym isn't big enough or safe enough for a full-scale game. Shawn Craig

The lesson politicians have learned from "Watergate", scandal, cover-up, etc., we are told, is the renewed realization that the electorate insists on the truth, honestly and candidly told, without half-truths, double-talk or

If your report of September 19 is accurate, as I assume it is, the Princeton Regional School Board apparently has not yet got the Watergate message or heard "the voice of the people" at the last referendum What is most disturbing is not even, as Mrs. Fox is quoted, the attitude that the $1,500,000 repair job is not an acceptable alternative as "false economy" (whose?) but the circumspect way in which the questions are to be presented in the October 15 referendum

If I read it correctly we can chose between a $4,950,000 for "absolutely critical repairs and changes" or add thereto another $1,225,000 for "essential work to bring the building into conformity with state standards". It would appear that the priorities are inverted, until one realizes that after all "essential" repair will have to be done first; thus I assume that this is really part of the bargain price $4,950,000 (not even five million') budget, which in turn can get some frills added to it which are cleverly labeled "essential" repairs

The combination of this smoke-screen and the arrogance to preclude the choice of the $1,500,000 repair hudget as an item in its own right for the voters' choice again demonstrates the high-handed manner which has unfortunately become the trade mark of our School Board Why we should increase the plant facilities in the face of a decreasing school population, a decreasing rate of new home construction, and with an empty school on our hands is difficult to see. Could it be that someone has an "edifice complex", equating a new huilding with better education? In these times of inflation and 11 percent unemployment in this county, immediate economy should be the watchword.

As Mr. Pike is guoted as pointing out, the only was we can get the hasic essential repair job by itself is to defeat hoth questions, thus demanding the option which should have been offered in the first place, ft would ap-pear that our first obligations are to our fellow townspeople, not all of whom live in the fortunate inflation-proof world which our board seems to inhabit. Secondly we need to think of our teachers who will cost-of-living justments, thus automatically increasing the school budget. Lastly, with school financing still under state consideration with our share an unknown quantity, this seems a particularly poor time to make additional financial com-

Bus Figures Disputed. To the Editor of Town Topics;

As an August vacationer who did not receive the local papers while away, I have just become aware of an article which appeared in the August 15 copy of TOWN TOPICS containing inaccurate statements about the Loop bus system. The article is based on information furnished the paper hy Nane-Ellen Draper, who is operating the Telebus

The article quotes a $32,000 cost for the Loop and Shuttle buses for a 90-day period. In fact, the cost is $16,000 for a 90day period without deducting

MAILBOX

The article further indicates that the ridership of the Loop bus was 1.4 persons per bus per hour. Actually the ridership has never been below 3.4 per bus per hour for any given week. The average was 5.0 per bus per hour for any given week. The average was 5.0 per bus per hour for the Editor of Town Topics:

The article further indicates the four-day Labor Day week the four-day Labor Day week when certain persons could ride without charge on certain persons. Paying customers during this "free week" reached 5.9 per bus per hour, which was higher than any previous week.

ART In Princeton

AROUND THE GALLERIES Nordfeldt At Gallery Of ine Art. During the past entury art has evolved from highly literal and stanardized product to a more expressive and interpretive orm of visual exposition. The ools and elements that omprised painting have been proken down and reassembled to create multiple layers of risual and intellectual effects.

The evolution of style and echnique and the constant searching for new forms and new embodiments of old forms spanned the years that in-cluded Cezanne, Picasso and Braque, among others. In heir work there has been a natural evolution from more mannered types of visual interpretation into highly complex and diverse expressions of color and form

At the same time that these popular giants of the arts were finding their way through many modes of expression, other painters were conducting similar searches for their own best statement. Sometimes they carried the influences of major painters and at other times in-ependently created original forms and artistic man-

Several Transitions During his lifetime his work reflected the many transitions and searches that were taking place around him. He was recognized by scholars and museums but his sombre palette and often unusual and personal style discouraged collectors an fame Although his paintings hang in major museums and oniversity collections and are highly regarded by critics he is less known than many of his contemporaries

The current display at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Art contains representative paintings from Nordfeldt's life, and are also a small survey of the development of 20th century art forms The range and depth of this development, as displayed, reflect the artist's search and his continuing ability to grow-It gives the viewer an opportunity to understand the evolution of an artists approach as well as a chance to see a fine collection of American painting

If Tiger Football Rebuilding Program Is to Succeed in '74, Victory over Rutgers in Opener Saturday Appears Essential

football when the outcome of the Rutgers game does not serve as an emphatic signpost toward the type of season Princeton will have. The last year the Tigers won con-vincingly (41-14 in 1970) was the last in which they topped the .500 mark; when they were drubbed last fall, 39-14, it proved to be the first of eight defeats they suffered in the worst season the sport has known here in more than 40 Rutgers' annual visit to Palmer Stadium on Saturday should again give Princetonians a clear indication of what to expect from the current rebuilding program in Optimism in Charge. It is inevitable that a team which has starved through a wretched season will find numerous reasons why the forthcoming campaign will hring more bread to the table. In Princeton's case, the hope that is currently being expressed is hased to a degree on fact, and what will unfold Saturday will reveal how solid those facts are.

Intangibles will play a part, Coach Boh Casciola's regime enters its second year with actual knowledge of the ability of twn-thirds of its squad, and more awareness of what even the sophomores can do than it had of the entire playing personnel a year ago. The players themselves have a far greater awareness of the offense that Casciola in-troduced last fall, one that this year will modify some of the principal characteristics of the veer to permit use of the I formation and allow Beible to throw out of the pocket optimism has been born. The Tigers will, however, get far more of a test Saturday than they have had so far, and if the defense bends and the line cannot do it share to generate an attack worth around 20 points, another long season appears in store.

Those close to the team are counting on a steadily maturing defense, bolstered by several good sophomores, and a visibly improved attack Princeton's two biggest that will blend Beible's question marks are the offensive line and the defensive capable passing with the solid fensive line and the defensive ronning of Walt Snickensecondary Off the perberger and Bob Reid This formances of the personnel in pair worked together virtually these. Two components in all of last years and confidence. these two components in all of last year, and could give scriminages ten days ago the Orange and Black a better some of the increasing flow of tandem than Hank Bjorklund. and Doog Blake were in their final season in Palmer Stadium.

> Tigers a Year Away? A look at the 22 names who will start on Princeton's two platonns shows very clearly that if things do not go particularly well this fall, they will almost mevitably be a great deal better a year from now The Tigers will start just two seniors offense 00(Snickenberger and Harding) and just four on defense-two up front and two in the secondary Probably not since the non-athletic Class of 1935 was on campus have so few seniors held membership on the first feam

Despite Martin Runs. As Jar as Princeton Day School coach John Bonaparth is concerned, the season begins this week. Despite a stellar performance last week by running bach Bill Martin, PDS was surprised by Chestnut Hill Academy, 20-14. As his team prepares to host Englewood School this Friday at 3:30, Boneparth yows that last week's problems will not

There's a whole new at-titude going for us," he said. "We're facing our first New Jersey school this week and now it's time to start after that state title

The Chestnut Hill game was costly Quarterback Frank Konstantynowiez broke a bone in his ankle near the end of the game and will be out probably at least six weeks, or about the entire season. That injury made necessary shifting of Mark Blaxill from tullback to quarterback, and Lee Schley, who had been moved from fullback to guard. back to fullback

Encouraging from the PDS viewpoint, however, was the running of Martin, who more than lived up to his preseason billing. On the second play of the game Martin took of up the middle and raced 89 yards for a touchdown PDS missed the extra point but promptly held Chestnut Hill on downs

On the second play of the next series, Martin struck off tackle again. This time he ran 79 yards to the end zone, but the play was called back by a chipping penalty. "That really caused a letdown," said Bonaparth "We let them take the game to us.
